

The Long Test Pin (Figure 8 - Test probe 12) of IEC 61032.

This pin is intended to be used on appliances for verifying the inaccessibility of hazardous live parts or hazardous mechanical parts which are liable to be touched accidentally by a tool, for example a screwdriver or similar pointed object in normal use.

Conforms to:

Standard IEC61032-1997, IEC60529-2001 and UL etc.

Material:	Stainless Steel.
Finish:	Polished.
According to:	Figure 8 (Test Probe 12) of IEC 61032.

Dimensions in millimetres

This pin is intended to be used on appliances for verifying the inaccessibility of hazardous live parts or hazardous mechanical parts which are liable to be touched accidentally by a tool, for example a screwdriver or similar pointed object in normal use.

Figure 8 – Test probe 12